“All things are full of God” - Lecture given on July 20, 1985

There are two types of existence: the manifest, material, corruptible world, and the unmanifest, spiritual, eternal world. They are two ends of the same substance. Matter is at one end and energy is at the other.

We are all spirits, only some are incarnate and some are dis-incarnate. Death is the barrier between the two except for psychics. The sixth sense only becomes active when the five physical senses become inactive. The sixth sense must be used consciously.

The world is divided into Karma Sansara (the Material World) and the Atmic World (the World of the Spirit). The World of Spirit is everywhere.

The souls of departed ancestors can visit you. The psychic uses a spirit guide, a person with whom he has become associated.

The pain of death is caused primarily by attachment to the body.
